EMBRACE ECCENTRICITIES

Hosting a large Thanksgiving feast? There's a good chance you don't have enough matching place settings for each guest. But before you panic, take a cue from Alison Pickart: "When seating 22 people, as we had last year, I knew I didn't have a set of dishes or glassware with enough to have everything match," she says. "We leaned in to the mismatch and created an eclectic mix of fancy and casual. I stuck to three different place settings so it still felt cohesive."
